

How does a peggo card work?

To pay for your bus ride, you tap your peggo card on the farebox. Hold it and wait for beep.

Where do I get a peggo card?

- You can buy Peggo cards at many different stores like 7-11 and Shoppers Drug Mart or at Transit Service Centres.

How much does a peggo card cost?

A peggo card costs $5.

If your peggo card is :

- lost
- stolen
- damaged

You will have to replace your card and the new card will cost $5.00

Who should have a peggo card?

ALL transit riders aged 6 years and older should have their own peggo card.

Even if you only ride the bus sometimes, you should get a peggo card.

Types of Fares

There are two types of fares you can use with your e-passes - replace paper passes and are valid for an unlimited number of trips during a set number of consecutive days.

e-cash - replaces paper tickets. Load e-cash onto your peggo card and when you tap your card an e-cash fare is deducted from your card.

Cash

You can still use cash (no bills or pennies allowed); but cash fares will be more expensive.

How do I load fares on my card?

In person at 7-11, Shoppers Drug Mart, or Transit Service Centres.

How do I check my card balance?

1. When you tap your card on the farebox on the bus, it shows on the screen.
2. At 7-11, Shoppers Drug Mart, or Transit Service Centres.

What are the benefits of registering a peggo card?

- If your card is lost or stolen, you will not lose the balance on it.
- A peggo card can identify if you are hearing impaired and beep louder
- A peggo card can identify if you are visually impaired and the fare box screen will stay on longer
- Your choice of 18 different languages for your card

Transfers

- If you pay using e-cash a 75-minute transfer is automatically loaded on your peggo card so you don't need a paper transfer.
- You don't need a transfer if you pay with e-pass.
- You can get a transfer if you pay with cash.

A senior's peggo card is green.

